WHAT KIND OF SOIL ARE YOU?

In today's Gospel from Matthew, our Lord shares the Parable of the Sower who scatters seed on many different kinds of land. This is a wonderful analogy for the stewardship way of life, demonstrating the slow and steady, yet powerful effect this lifestyle will have on those who fully embrace it.

In this parable, some of the seeds land on a path where birds carry them off before they can begin to take root. Other seeds land on rocky ground with little soil. As soon as things begin to heat up, they get scorched and die. Then there are seeds that land on soil cluttered with thorns which choke the seeds just as they are beginning to grow strong.

Finally, there are seeds that land on deep and healthy soil. These seeds produce abundant fruit.

This is where the stewardship way of life comes in. When we give the best of our time, talent and treasure to serve God and others, we create lives filled with that rare "good soil" needed for the Kingdom of God to thrive.

How does this happen? Stewardship living removes the "rocks" of mistrust from our lives as we develop an unshakable faith that God will always provide for our needs. It clears away the "thorns" of worldly ambition that make us self-centered, fill us with needless anxiety and stifle our focus on God. Stewardship living requires a deep reliance on the Word of God and the sacraments which continuously nourish and fertilize the soil of our lives.

Let us deepen our commitment to this way of life, allowing the Sower to do His work in us, slowly and steadily. The Master Gardner will surely produce miraculous fruits through us.

ST. MARTIN OF TOURS YOUTH GROUP UPDATE

As our Youth Group year draws to a close, we want to acknowledge all of the help and support we receive that made the Youth Group successful. Despite the pandemic preventing in person meetings, we were able to move activities online and keep going without missing a beat! We even went on some pretty amazing virtual adventures camping and to Walt Disney World. Special thank you to our volunteers – Josie Dell, Caroline Steger, and Martin Ridland for sharing their culinary expertise, John & Linda Mataseje for sharing their mastery of dance and to our parishioners and parents for supporting all the activities!

Thank you from Alex, Alfred, Alyssa, Amanda, Connor, Holly, Isla, Jack, Keira, Nolan

Dear Friends in Christ.

Rivers of Babylon is a reggae song written in 1970 by Brent Dowe and Trevor McNaughton but popularized in 1978 by "Boney M". It was one of the Top 10 best-selling singles of all time in the UK. It is one of the few pop songs to be taken directly from the Bible and in 1979 a crowd of 280,000 people gathered in Galway, Ireland, sang it to the new pope John Paul II.

The song is based on Psalm 137, a psalm of lament sung by the Jews after their kingdom had been split in two, with the Assyrians conquering the northern part (Israel) and the Babylonians the southern part (Judah — from which we get our name 'Jews').

By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion... There the wicked, [who] carried us away in captivity, required of us a song. Now how shall we sing the LORD's song in a strange land? (cf. Ps 137:1-4)

These past few months we have felt like the Jews in the Babylonian exile, unable to visit the Temple in Zion. The COVID-19 pandemic and associated public health restrictions have prevented our attending Mass and other celebrations in our parish communities. For the first time in a century, Christians around the world could not gather to celebrate Palm Sunday, Good Friday, Easter, Ascension Day, Pentecost, Trinity Sunday or Corpus Christi. Rivers of Babylon takes from Psalm 19 the recognition that we can pray anywhere, even when we are precluded from attending the Temple.

Religions function as a social glue and, especially in individualistic societies like our own, as a prophetic call to community. Catholicism, as an incarnational and sacramental faith, emphasizes even more strongly the need for physical-moral presence to each other. "They devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and to fellowship, to the Breaking of the Bread and to prayer." (Acts 2:42)

So it has been as we have returned to liturgical 'Ordinary Time', that our lives are also slowly reverting to their more 'ordinary' encounters. With the easing of COVID safe restrictions since June 19, we have returned to the church building at 30% capacity. Like the children of Israel returning to the Temple in Zion.

While going to 'church at home' had and still has its upsides, we know it is second best. Our highest prayer is the Mass – the Church's offering of Christ to the Father in intercession for the needs of the world. We participate most fully in Christ's self-giving by being present to each other and receiving His substance into our own in Holy Communion. And we extend that experience by praying before the Blessed Sacrament. While necessary public health restrictions forced a long Eucharistic fast upon us – not just abstaining from earthly food for an hour before Holy Communion, but abstaining from our heavenly food itself for several months now, we are now free to return to the Table of the Lord.

The hunger we've experienced should make us appreciate the Eucharist all the more, as we realize better than ever how important it is to gather with our brothers and sisters in Christ and receive Him together. Good as it has been to practice spiritual communion during this time, our hungry souls have craved sacramental Communion. As we return to the altar not just hungry but more appreciative, we can discover anew how deeply satisfying is that Eucharistic food and, hopefully, be more determined than ever to receive it every Sunday and well-prepared, not just out of habit but out of love.

Those who cannot attend Mass or are afraid to do so should keep Sunday holy by setting aside some time for prayer at home, reading the Scriptures of the day, or watching Mass on television or online, asking God for the graces you would normally receive in Holy Communion ('spiritual communion'). You might attend Mass on a weekday where possible. Here at St. Martin's Mass is celebrated every morning at 9:00 am Monday through Friday. We will soon be open during the day for private prayer, and Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, especially for those unable to attend Sunday Mass; but, again, this will be scheduled in the bulletin. We can now schedule these times of prayer since we installed our new church Air Conditioning this past week.

I'm doing all in my responsibilities as parish priest to keep staff, COVID Safety Volunteers and parishioners safe as we move forward into the summer months. However, I would encourage you all to take your own steps to personal safety by being informed of all our new protocols - and they can be read on our parish website. <http://www.stmartinsparish.com>

I've come to refer to the last four months as the roller coaster ride that won't end. You strap in for what you know will be a rough ride, but then it's a constant tick, tick, tick before another plunge. So many things are happening at the same time. We have so many extremes feeding each other, driving each other forward, while everyone is simultaneously fearful of the global pandemic. The words of Jesus are frequent refrain: "Be Not Afraid." (Matthew 14:27)

Please continue to pray for an end to the pandemic and for all those who have been affected, especially those who are sick or at risk, those who are isolated or anxious, those who have lost their employment or who are experiencing financial hardship. And pray for a renewed reverence for the Eucharist, as we joyfully return to its celebration and reception.

Close your day, every day, with a positive acknowledgement of something you accomplished, learned or are grateful for. It will help dilute some of the negativity you've absorbed and remind you that not everything that's happening right now is bad or depressing.

In times of constant negative messaging, you need an antidote so that you can keep your positive attitude and march forward with determination and hope. Be deliberate in activities that are positive, heartwarming, stress-reducing and laughter-inducing! Together, we'll get through this.
